

MOIST CHICKEN

Hailing from the Danielson/ Putnam, CT area, Moist Chicken officially formed in mid 1999 and since has been making a name for themselves where ever they go. Moist Chicken plays, what they like to call, perverted rock. The music is inspired by a number of genres, from hip-hop to punk/rock, combined with humorous/in-your-face lyrics. As for the crazy stage show, you never know what to expect.

You guys are from up there in the New England states. Can you tell us about what kind of scene is going on up there?

The scene here is awesome. There are so many great bands that are underrated. All different styles, but definitely the area to look at right now, in my opinion.

Can you give us some background on the band? Members, releases, achievements, arrests, etc.

Well, no arrests yet, but anything is possible with Moist Chicken. As for members, we've got...Whitey: guitars/backing vocals, Pocket Full of Candy: bass/backing vocals, Mr. Hot Pants: drums, and Daddy Thick Chowder (me): vocals/lyrics. We've put out a few demos, such as: 5-track Demo, Deuce Demo and Pork Demo. We are currently in the studio and will be releasing a full album called, Taming the Goat. (Little shameless plug there.) we also had the chance to play at the legendary CBGB's in New York, along side such acts as Wolfpac, Dave Brockie Experience (featuring members of GWAR) and Lazy American Workers (featuring the other members of GWAR). We've done some good shit and look forward to doing a shit load more.

I hear some Bloodhound Gang and Wolfpac in your songs. What other influences do you have?

We definitely want to make our own niche, but Bloodhound Gang and Wolfpac are our two main influences. Just to name drop, you could probably also add some NOFX, 2 Live Crew, GWAR, Green Jelly and Andrew Dice Clay.

We here at Empire took a quick glance at your website and the obvious question is, what's up with your live show? Of course tell us something about the feather bit.

We just go out and play what we feel. You can never tell what's gonna happen. Sometimes we have some feathers, sometimes we don't. We like to keep things fresh and mix it up. The vaseline and feathers just came to us and we thought it'd be funny to do. It's normal to us. No matter what happens though, you'll be entertained.

Everybody around the office got a kick from your website and CD artwork. Who is your "graphic designer" and why?

That's awesome ya guys are digging Moist Chicken. Just wait till the album and new website come out. It's gonna make you pop the seams in your pants, man. But anyway, back to the question. We do the website and CD artwork ourselves. We don't really think of having anyone else doing our stuff for us. We love and take pride in this band and just prefer to do it ourselves.

If you could play with any band at all, who would it be? Why?

We already played with Wolfpac and the members of GWAR in their side bands, so we're pretty happy with that. Definitely the Bloodhound Gang, GWAR in full costume and Green Jelly. The list can go on and on man, but those are the first 3 that come to mind. I think the shows would be crazy and packed with energy. It would definitely give the people an orgasm of a show.

What's next for Moist Chicken?

Bigger and better things, man. We're focused on getting the new (well, our first) album done and out into stores, put up a new look to the website and try and tour our asses off. This new album shows so much growth in the band on all levels. We're just climbing the ladder. It's about to get a whole lot more moist!

Anything you'd like to add? Thanks, shout outs, shows, porn sites, etc?

First, thanks to you for interviewing us. It makes us extremely moist. Thanks to everyone that is down with Moist Chicken and helps spread the chicken juices. Yes, that sounds cheesy as fuck, but we mean it, man.

Check out www.moistchicken.com for up to date info and show news. I feel like such a whore, but the new album, Taming the Goat, will be out soon. We are in the studio finishing it up, but we will keep you posted. Once again, a new look to the website and look for us on the road. Keep it moist!!!!
